"I am Director-Communication & Outreach working with National University of Sciences responsible for the complete media management, outreach campaign, communication plan, and project management aspects. I am also teaching as adjunct faculty at different institutions in professional programs. The platform provided by SZABIST did not only groomed me professionally but also gave me an insight of self relying and internalization of knowledge. SZABIST have made me learn how to search through the stringent paths and win through the teething troubles by marking the milestones and turning it into bigger achievements."
